I see your face it haunts my dreams,
What we once had is now empty,
I left here waiting patiently.

Your poor excuse has pierced my heart,
It left me broken, torn apart,
I should have known it from the start.

I'm having trouble standing,
This heavy burden crushes me,
By the look in your eyes i can see
You're showing no remorse for me...

You tell me you love me then why all the pain?
I'm fed up, I'm finished, I'm through with this game.
The past is behind me, this life is a bore.
You take the battle, but i'll take the war.

You thought you had me tied up on a leash.

But i've broken the collar, you beautiful beast,
I'm breaking the habit of falling for you.
Your spell is broken. And So i'm through.

How by your hand i'm standing.
That burden's lifting off of me,
The look in your eyes lets me know,
Your love still lives inside of me.
Your love still lives inside of me.

Pushing forward, moving on,
The pain i felt is almost gone.
You thought you had me.
You thought you had me, you were wrong.
You thought you had me, you were wrong.
You thought you had me, you were wrong.
