So long
So long, save the long goodbyes for yourself
You know you've got it so wrong, so wrong
You've got no one to blame but yourself

Because they need the answer today
You're gonna give them the answer they crave
They'll always need direction and way
They'll get you working soldier's hours every hour of the day

No one
No one is gonna do what's good for your health
All you've got to do is hold on, hold on You've got no one to face but yourself

Because they need the answer today
You're gonna give them the answer they crave
They'll always need direction and way
They'll get you working soldier's hours every hour of
the day

No one sees right through
No one sees me like you do

Because they need the answer today
You're gonna give them the answer they crave
They'll always need direction and way
They'll get you working soldier's hours every hour of
the day
