Heres my list of all the things I should have said and done
The boats I missed and all the fights I lost I really should have won
And im not the only one
I wont bow or take the world as you would hand it down
So leave me out of all your plans, cos I don't need them now
Ill find my own way out

There's nothing lefts to lose
Words will not come looking for me and you
Once we wanted nothing and everything was real
It was all that I allow
For me and you now

Everybody know that I believe, if you spell it out for me
Spell it out so everyone can see
All that really matters now to me, is I could set you free
My hands are tied and I cant find my feet

Stand by me for long enough
And watch your enemies float down stream one by one until you realised you've reached Theres no one left but me

Theres nothing lefts to lose

Words will not come looking for me and you
Once we wanted nothing and everything was real
It was all that I allow
For me and you now

Everybody know that I believe if you spell it out for me
Spell it out so everyone can see
All that really matters now to me is I could set you free
My hands are tied and I cant find my feet

This sweet old world, will give it out until its time to leave

I wont hurt for you when all you want is a flawless victory
How wrong could anyone be?

There's nothing lefts to lose
Words will not come looking for me and you
Once we wanted nothing and everything was real
It was all that I allow
For me and you now

Everybody know that I believe if you spell it out for me
Spell it out so everyone can see
All that really matters now to me is I could set you free
My hands are tied and I cant find my feet
