On a night when
Every line is a curse
I thought I'd save you
I keep making it worse

I would give everything I own
For what it takes
I would give everything I own
For the love it takes

I won't leave you
All you have is that spell
Cast it will you
Make me glad, make me well

I would give everything I own
For what it takes
I would give everything I own
For what it takes

I will try and leave it all behind
And go for what it takes to let it show
But there's reasons you can't see
You will be the end of me, with the feelings I can't feel

'Cos when I needed someone you left me floored
That feeling has gone, I can't let go
You know that I'd change if I had the love it takes

When I needed someone you left me floored
That feeling has gone, I can't let go
You know that I'd change if I had the love it takes

The love it takes
The love it takes
The love it takes
The love it takes
