Today I lock my fears away
Turn the key and throw it away
And leave the badness behind
And start again
Today I get to make it new
Today I'm free, free to choose
No more worries I can't face
I know there's nothing stacked so high
I can't see the light from behind
And clear the way
Today I get to make it new
Today I'm free, free to choose
Today I get to start anew
Today I'm free, today we're through
