how could this happen again?
nobody learn, the history is just repeating again its live or let die organized crime or organized genocide?

there is no "take me away"
there is no easy way out
and never think that you can't never make a change

so don't step back till it's over and discover your wish for reprisal

this game is on, you need to face this world to seek the truth

and discover your wish for reprisal

it's a wish for reprisal
break it down

how could this happen again?
nobody learn, the progress is not a bloodshed

organized crime or organized genocide?

and discover your wish for reprisal

it's a wish for reprisal
break it down

controlling population through starvation

that's not progress (x)
it's your progress

today you are going down.
