

Embrace The End

"Believe In No One"

Look into the face of danger and your integrity will lead you through.

There is nothin that i can do.

What the fuck are you running from?

So face your fears to fight this world alone.

Because everyday i fight and fight. i fucking fight.

Believe in no one.

You owe it to yourself.

Believe in noone and fight this world alone

And I well Im the one to live with my mistakes.

To fight this world. so fuck this world.

I owe it to myself to be true.

You say that the image changed but it all remains the same.

Well i've never changed

And all this time i stayed the same and those words.

They never changed. they stayed the same.
