War. where blood spills in my dreams.
They wont take me alive.
The battle lines are clearly drawn
And it's dichotomized between soldiers and common man.
There's a war going on inside my head and i can't choose sides.
The war goes on as i write this letter home and i pray
you fucking answer.
I can't believe the shit i've seen
The war goes on and on
As blood spills in my dreams on and on they wont take me alive.
The territories are taken by heartless faces brought on by heartless creatures.
They are taught to kill there is a war going on inside my head
And i can't choose sides.
The war goes on so bring it on.
They won't take me alive.
Cant you see the war goes on.
Never never never take me alive.
Cant you see the war goes on.
Never never never take me alive.
