So you couldn't hold on
To the values that I treasure
And now I'm broken, without you by my side

If the meaning, could 've sold you
Another dream for you to hold on
Cause you're mine
Because you're mine

And if the wind that blows
It somehow knows that you no longer care
And if the reason to live is not forgive
But to find a life that's fair

And now I'm broken
Without you by my side
Now I'm broken
Without you by my side

Memories are my freedom
And the're all that say I care
And now I'm broken without you by my side

If you only say you love me
Find the words to show you could be
Because you're mine
Because you're mine
