Crazy plans, fall thru my hands
One by one, slipped away
Urban dreams fuel my madness
The taller I stand, the harder they pay

Thought the city would find my fortune
Spin the wheel every day
Only chance to see it through
I'm slowly losing faith...

Lost, in the city, the urban tribe, you
Know that I want you, Know that I'm going to survive
Madness, I'm calling, to you
Madness, I'm falling, for you.

Take me from this urban whirlpool
Spinning out of control
I will leave the city blurring
Bring it down, hear my call

See streets crush these dreams
Now I'm gonna make things right
But con-sumed in silent screams
I choose to stand and fight
