I don't know the path that I should take
Choices are harder to make everyday
I don't know why I let you go
Because I'm crying for you night and day

CHORUS

I see you now you're looking so good
Wishing I was back in your arms
I know that now things can't be the same
So I'll just wait for another day

Emotions are high when we are together
Just like the spring weather blooming all the time
I can't see the two of us apart
You're the only love that will be in my heart

CHORUS

Then you come around standing face to face
You're the only heart that I will take

...I'll just wait for another day...
