I'd take it back to have the chance
To see her laugh, to see her dance
You, you never told me it would be so hard
And now I'm waiting for everyday to go away
Just go away

Goodnight goodnight
I will tuck you in so tight
But I'm just a tired man
With these tired hands of mine
Wake up baby its time for us to leave
You're just a little girl in your lonely world with me
So let's go all the way
Let's go all the way

This dark road will lead right where you want to be
You're driving so take the wheel
I'd take it back to have the chance
To see her laugh, to see her dance
You, you never told me it would be so hard
And now I'm waiting for everyday to go away
Just go away

Your conscience is pleading as you start believing
That what you're doing is not for you
There is no mistaking the life that your taking
So kill the inconvenient truth
So let's go all the way
Let's go all the way

This dark road will lead right where you want to be
You're driving so take the wheel
You're driving so take the wheel
You're driving so take the wheel(GO)
You're driving so take the wheel(GO)
You're driving so take the wheel(GO)
You're driving so take the wheel
So take the wheel
So take the wheel
