I'd take it back to have the chance
To see her laugh, to see her dance
You never told me it would be so hard
And now I wait for everyday to go away
Just go away

Goodnight, goodnight, I will tuck you in so tight
But I'm just a tired man with these tired hands of mine
Wake up, baby, it's time for us to leave
You're just a little girl in your lonely world with me
So let's go all the way, let's go all the way

This dark road will lead right where you wanna be
You're driving, so take the wheel

I'd take it back to have the chance
To see her laugh, to see her dance
You never told me it would be so hard
And now I wait for everyday to go away
Just go away

Your conscience is pleading as you start believing
That what you're doing is not for you
And there is no mistaking the life that you're taking
So kill the inconvenient truth
So let's go all the way, let's go all the way

This dark road will lead right where you wanna be
You're driving, so take the wheel
You're driving, so take the wheel

You're driving, so take the wheel
You're driving, so take the wheel
You're driving, so take the wheel
You're driving, so take the wheel

So take the wheel
So take the wheel
