Just tell me
Have you made up your mind yet
Will you show the right way to me
I'll tell you
I wish I knew you well
Then I could speak my mind and show you
For all they say we're not going insane
We're gonna start all over again
Day by day we're making our own way
Every time I see you
Walking through the golden dawn
I feel like I'll never let you go
For all they say we're not going insane
We're gonna start all over again
And then again it will be the same
As we'll find we're back in the game
We're gonna start all over again
Day by day we're making our own way
