They turn up at night
Come from inside avoid the light
Just a nightmare you said
This is no dream, no, I'm not mad

All I had known
Like in this song a lonely tone
Sing sweet lullabies
To me it sounds like childish cries
Cold breath in my neck
Shadows creep behind my back

They breathe with our mouth, they speak with our tongue
They smell all my greed and undone need
They hate with our hate, they love with our love
They see with our eyes what we don't see
We don't see

Taste the tears of the night
Can't run away and we can't hide
Just fragments remain
My face had changed I'm not the same
A cold hand touched my core
The same hand like the night before

They live on our pain, they feed on our dreams
Oh, hell is a sad place in their souls
They need all our fears, they drink all our tears
Oh, hell is a dark place in their souls

Awake unknown greed, they are evil seed
They come with the flood, they're creatures of god
They smile in our face with a nasty grimace
The faces of pain

Misery
The flood comes rushing over me
A tragedy
My heart is crushed a weeping sea
Oh miser, misery

Through eyes of tears
Oh, I face my fears
And I face my pain
Through the nightly rain

Misery
The flood comes rushing over me
A tragedy
My heart is crushed a weeping sea
Misery
Misery, misery, misery

They kiss with my lips, they speak with my tongue
They hate with my hate, they love with my love
They live on my pain, they feed on my dreams
They need all my fears, they drink all my tears

The voices of the dead
Are whispering in my head
Some cold breath in my neck
Shadows creep behind my back
They turn up at night
Come from inside, avoid the light
