You know sometimes when I get up in the morning, I don't know if I can face another day because shit's been so fucking hard for so fucking long and it don't seem like shits ever going to change.
Sometimes it seems like shit ain't doing nothing but getting worse.
Sometimes when I look in the mirror, I look despised at what I see cause pride strength, all of love and life they don't seem to have alot to do with me.
Feels like something went wrong with me a long time ago, something inside me way deep down died and I can't remember when,
I just don't know where the fuck I went wrong...
What's life but a river of tears anyway, huh?

Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For away to make my way through this world full of shit
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
I've got nothing left
I await for the angel of death I've lost too many times too many times to count the pain is so great

Let me tell you something, rock bottom is a sweet fucking dream, a myth made up by a liar who's disappear is a void you can slip into forever.
I've been as low as you can go and I guess here at the bottom the only place you can go is up, but everytime I start to get ahead everytime I start to get somewhere it's seems like someone or something knocks me the fuck back down.

One step forward, two steps back.
I read somewhere that "without hope, man is but an animal"
...I think I've lost hope

I await for the angel of death
I've lost to many times to many times to count the pain is so great

I'm so fucking tired of being fucked up all the time but I can't seem to do it any other way, maybe I'm not as strong as you but sometimes my fucked up life it brings me down when I look around.
My life it didn't make me hard it just hardened something deep down inside of me.
I think it was my humanity.
I want it back, I want to feel normal again, I wanna feel like a human.
I don't wanna be like this no more,
I'm just looking for some shelter of salvation or something to believe in or just maybe someone who cared.

I await for the angel of death
I've lost to many times to many times to count the pain
is so great
I never asked for life
I wish that at birth I had died
I tried to drown this hate Death will be the cure for all this pain
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day

For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
I await for the angel of death
I've lost to many times to many times to count the pain
is so great
I never asked for life
I wish that at birth I had died
I tried to drown this hate
Death will be the cure for all this pain
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
I await for the angel of death
I've lost to many times to many times to count the pain
is so great
I never asked for life
I wish that at birth I had died
I tried to drown this hate
Death will be the cure for all this pain
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit

There's no where to turn, everyone betrays you.
I can't trust anyone and I'm so fucking paranoid.
I'm always waiting for the fall, for the let down.
Trust nobody for sure.
I can't remember when a day's gone by that I haven't thought about taking myself out.

I know I ain't shit but I know I'll never be shit.
I've got no future but I think I can deal with it, I think I can live, if I can just look at one person and see them smile at me and know that they meant it.

Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
Every Day
Each fucking day I pray
I pray to a god that I know does not exist
For a way
Some fucking way
Some day
For a way to make my way through this world full of shit
