

Emma Andersson"Somebody Should Have Told Me"

Visit "Somebody Should Have Told Me" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm wakin up and I feel a little funny
Is that about what a day will bring
I'm lookin out and the weather is sunny
And I'm bout but a single thing

The reason is very simple
Out from peace in my heart
Like a spell that I'm under
You stroke me like a thunder

Somebody should have told me
How it would be feeling like this
I never could've imagined the magic when we kiss
Somebody should have told me

I'm sittin' down with a cup of coffee
A piece of cake and a magazine
I sort of smile when I'm thinking of you
Reflecting over what has been

The reason is very simple
Out from peace in my heart
Like a spell that I'm under
You stroke me like a thunder

Somebody should have told me
How it would be feeling like this
I never could've imagined the magic when we kiss
Somebody should have told me
Somebody should have told me
Somebody should have told me
We could have been sooner
Being in love with you

Somebody should have told me
How it would be feeling like this
I never could've imagined the magic when we kiss

Visit Emma Andersson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
