Feat. Morgan Fairhead

Best friends come and go depending on your highs and your lows
My best friend decided not to be there when I needed her the most I thought you'd be there for me and why did you lie to me using me to get what you want Then I couldn't believe it happen, no I couldn't understand

True love walked out the door couldn't take it no more True love you broke my heart you made my whole life sore
You said you'd be my baby, then why did you betray me
Temptation got to his head
Then I left him, yeah, and this is what I said:

It feels like, it's gonna be ok (its gonna be ok)
It feels like, is just feels that way (is just feels that way)
It feels like it would be a better day 'Cause I believe in the end, good things are coming my way.
