Lifes so god damn complicated
But still so wonderful
All of those things you thought you hated
Turned out to be so beautiful
Drown me as deep as you want to
Baby I think I'd still be burning
Im asking for one but Im thinking of two
Don't introduce me as you think you know
Cos I don't even think I know myself
Don't even think I know myself just yet
Another tired mind gives in to solitude
Days fall in to waste
Keep forgetting what is old or new
In between there's a bitter taste

I lock on the target where I wanna go
Talk about your complications now
Everything is fine but I scream to show
So it is you think you know
But I don't even think i know myself
Don't even think i know myself just yet
Don't say you know me
Don't think you own me
This is my life, see
I don't wanna know who Im supposed to please
Don't say you know me
Don't think you own me
This is my life see
Its all on me
