There will never be a song that touches on the subject of how deeply I feel rejected

STAB YOUR LUNGS

I hope you're feeling so much better now

You don't got 5 than you're not hanging out

But being friends was all I ever cared about

LOOK AT ME NOW

I've lost faith in everyone

I'm burning my bridges

No apologies could ever mend

That gap that you created

Too much time has passed

You missed your chance to make this right

of how deeply I feel rejected

STAB YOUR LUNGS

I hope you're feeling so much better now

You don't got 5 than you're not hanging out

But being friends was all I ever cared about

LOOK AT ME NOW

Backstabbing murderers

I hope the handle never leaves you

And the song ends and the audience stands

And the song ends

(Time wasted, spent wasted)
