This is my last goodbye
This is my last forever
Your holy stigmata are painted on
This is my worst goodnight
Hope this wont last forever
Your dying beauty stabbed my faith
With it's thorn
Poison, blackening my blood
Your tears are never seen in your reign
Your fall was founded by your friends

I can't believe I trusted you
Your lines are set, your book is read
Your diamond is made of broken glass
Your end is set, the truth is red
You can't base your life
On that cross around your neck
Where you keep all your white lies
You will surely be the center of attention
But you never will deserve me

I can't believe I trusted you
Your lines are set, your book is read
Your diamond is made of broken glass
Your end is set, the truth is red
I can't deny you are the prettiest thing in my life
I can't rely on such a worthless love like yours
