Another Pot Of Tea

Written by Paul Grady

Put on another pot o' tea

'Cause I'm in love with the Irish accent to your story

And I need someone to help me

Well they say that now you don't talk straight

And that of late it's been my lot to be afraid

To remember you by anything

But memories I already keep

So put another pot o' tea

'Cause I'm love with the Irish accent to your story

And now I need some sympathy

It's harder when it takes so long to leave

The table where we all learned to laugh and learned to grieve

Over the pain that came so close to you

It comes so close to me today

So put another pot o' tea

'Cause I'm in love with the Irish accent to your story

And I need someone to help me
