(Jean Ritchie)

I hear the soft wind sighing
In every bush and tree
The sound of my heart crying
When you are far from me.

When we're apart, my darlin'
There's sorrow in the wind
When we're apart, my darlin'
Sweet sorrow in the wind.

You leave me in the morning
Your footsteps die away
Though not a leaf is stirring
I hear the wind all day.

When we're apart, my darlin'
There's sorrow in the wind
When we're apart, my darlin'
Sweet sorrow in the wind.

They say when love grows older
It dies and fades away
Yet all our life together
One ever brightening day.

When we're apart, my darlin'
There's sorrow in the wind
When we're apart, my darlin'
Sweet sorrow in the wind.

When we're apart, my darlin'
There's sorrow in the wind
When we're apart, my darlin'
Sweet sorrow in the wind.
Sweet sorrow in the wind...
