I see a million old memories each day
That remind me of what used to be
My aching heart tells me they are here to stay
Since you made a memory of me

I tossed and I turned night after night
Those memories just won't let me sleep
The flame in my heart is still burning bright
Though you made a memory of me
I passed by the house we once loved in
For a glimpse of what I thought was our dream
But these days I find the dream was all mine
'Cos you made a memory of me

I passed by the house we once loved in
For a glimpse of what I thought was our dream
But these days I find the dream was all mine
'Cos you made a memory of me
