and again he came to cherish the comfort of mysteries inspiring and far away timeless in the moment they painted immortality

forever drawn towards the centre of this ensorcelling flame yet, still in fear of the sacrifice it would take to know its name

"Do not despair", said the mystery "You will always have a friend in me until the day you break my code then I will be gone and you are free...
...to manifest another" towards the heavens he did aspire now he shall burn who sought the fire some will mourn the ashes cold while others behold the inferno unfold
