"My Silhouette"

Sleep has become my escape from reality, she's in my dreams
Someone wake me up because this isn't real
It's just a game that I can't escape
Over again, this cruel cycle repeats and repeats
I grabbed her hand but it slowly slipped away
Someone wake me up, can someone wake me up

She moves with me in my dreams,
But I'm foolish to believe that this is the way it ends,
I see her Silhouette,
But it's just a test for me to leave the past with the past

She moves with me now, but it's just a test
I must stop this cycle and cut out my silhouette
I smile as her lips, brush my neck
But I know that this is, just a vision in my head
Kiss me in my dreams, if you're really done with me
It's too fitting to disrupt, oh can someone wake me up

She moves with me in my dreams,
But I'm foolish to believe that this is the way it ends
I see her Silhouette,
But it's just a test for me to leave the past with the past...

But you can't change me,
But she's pulling me back!
This cruel cycle repeats and repeats,
I grabbed her hand but it slowly slipped away...

She moves with me in my dreams,
This cruel cycle repeats and repeats
She moves with me in my dreams,
I grabbed her hand but it slowly slipped away...
