I know it's crazy but I put it to my head
I's scared you might like him more instead
I had two fine girls on the top of my list
Wiped 'em out with the thought of loosing you
It's my problem in the end so don't feel bad
If you choose to leave, yeah honey I'd be sad
It's the worst nightmare I've been having since years
It's the worst nightmare I've been having since years

Don't let yourself be held back
It's my bill that I was ready to pay
Right from the start, right from the beginning
Right from the moment when I asked you to stay

Your scent's still on, on my skin
From the bed in which we were in
Last night went way too fucking fast
I hope it's a good image which I cast
Upon your sweat mind, oh help oh find
The answer to my question which I grind
Down the rail of my thoughts...

Don't let yourself be held back
It's my bill that I was ready to pay
Right from the start, right from the beginning
Right from the moment when I asked you to stay
Don't let yourself be held back
It's my bill that I was ready to pay
Right from the start, right from the beginning
Right from the moment when I asked you to stay

I was ready to pay!

Don't let yourself be held back
It's my bill that I was ready to pay
Right from the start, right from the beginning
Right from the moment when I asked you to stay
Oh... oh... oh... oh...
