I could live a thousand years, if i could be alone with you, you.
and every second of my life, i would never play the fool, never turn my back to you.
i was the one who saw you first,
a grain in the sands of the universe, i never knew what was ahead me.
now im out of the eyes of the wintertime, and here in the sun

chorus:

ill stay inside your shades of love,
makes one day forever.
and when july has come and gone,
this day will last forever.

when i see the way you look,
the way you look my way, through the rain, and the water crashing down washes both of us away away
i was the one who saw you first,
a grain in the sands of the universe, i never knew what was ahead of me.
now im out of the eyes of the wintertime and heres in the sun..

chorus

makes one day forever.
shes all i see in front of me, shes all i need.

i could live a thousand years, if i could be alone with you.
and here in the sun
ill stay inside your shades of love
makes one day forever.
and when july has come and gone,
this day will last forever.
im here inside your shades of love

makes one day forever
one day forever
one day forever
one day forever
