

End Of Destiny "Cast Me Out"

I killed myself today
I lost my pride in a pool of blood
God please vomit my lukewarm rebellious heart I've led myself away from you so cast me out My pride has become my God God please cast me out of this vessel that I have prepared for you my pride has become my God so cast me out for years I was living among the dead
God please cast me out of this vessel I've led myself away from you
For years I was living among the dead
completely ignorant of the destruction that I rained down upon myself and those around me and now that I've been murdered to this world I still find myself clinging to my selfish desires and father tonight I pray that you purge me and make me a worthy vessel, something to call your own kill the me in me I made you a promise and I'll keep it no matter how much it hurts me
