Someone plays with fate tonight
He knows it's gonna take their life
And they kept going on
They fade away
There is something you can't see
The ghosts are talking straight to me
We are the lost ones on this lonely earth
We all leave in the starlight
We're all weak in the starlight Someone was afraid that night, afraid to end up left in light
The days kept going on
That endless way
There's something you won't see
Somebody's leading you and me
We are the last ones on this lonely earth
You wondering why I walk away
You wondering why I'm far away
You wondering why it ends tonight
You wondering, why I say goodbye.
