

End Of Part One "In Your Bed Again"

Let me lay in your bed.
Lord knows that I cannot sleep in mine.
I'm not asking you to love me.
Please, I just need some place to close my eyes,
To get some rest,
Somewhere I can hide.

Temporary intimacy
Only leads to broken dreams
And tears on your pillow
Once you're alone again

We know this fusion is not forever,
So let's enjoy these moments we're intertwined
Inside each other
In the candlelight.

Temporary intimacy
Only leads to broken dreams
And tears on your pillow
Once you're alone again

So here I am in your bed again
(How do I always end up here?)
