You hold yourself captive
Until you let yourself go
Then you smile without a care
When you lose yourself in the air

Where the birds roam
Where you're never alone
When you once swore that you were
Never coming home

I swear I'll never leave your side
I swear I'll never leave you
I'll still love you when the birds fall from the sky
I swear I'll never leave your side
I swear I'll never leave you
I'll still love you when the birds fall from the sky

So search around, around the world
Back and forth and back and forth
For someone else who moves your heart
And shakes your soul
You know you're never alone
When I'm away from home
You know it's stamped and bold
I hope it's never old.

I swear I'll never leave your side
I swear I'll never leave you
I'll still love you when the birds fall from the sky
I swear I'll never leave your side
I swear I'll never leave you
I'll still love you when the birds fall from the sky

Where have all the birds gone?

I'll still love you when the birds fall from the sky
I'll still love you when the birds fall from the sky
I'll love you all until the stars fall from the sky
I love you all
I love you all
