Look at my hands, can you hear their voices?
Can you understand this feeling?
If there are no coincidences only consequences
Then life's stripped of chances.

Will we all just die and fade away?
End the stars tonight
I'll let them fade away
Cause the end is all I've got

Look at the stars, can you hear their voices?
Can you understand they're laughing?
How will we know what comes after the end
How will I live another day without my best friends

Will we all just die and fade away?
End the stars tonight
I'll let them fade away
Cause the end is all I've got

If there are no coincidences only consequences
What did we do wrong?
Why do we deserve this?
We can fight back

I'd die for us
I'd die for us
