

Enemy You "Moral Absolutes"

Watching the hands they keep on ticking I hope for more, the content leave me sickened I know what I want: a prime directive All new commandments for a hateful collective I believe in truth and moral absolutes But hey what the fuck can I do ? Follow the lead if you can hand on it They're going nowhere I know they're full of shit I know what we need: ethical standards Above religion and higher than culture I believe in truth and moral absolutes But hey what the fuck can I do ?
Right and wrong, we can define it Get out of my way if you don't like it Looking at them, their faces stone I want so much more than flesh and bone
