

Engelbert Humperdinck

"Caged"

Visit "Caged" on MotoLyrics.com

I have done many brilliant things
To make you become my everything
Yet you and I are in different places, separate cages
I am here
And you are there
Who am I at the end of your day?
Animals were never meant to be caged
Still my love, it goes on
It's not like I'm analyzing what is wrong
I never wanted you to be my slave
I half wanted you to escape
I love you enough for you to be free
But what does that make of you and me?
I am here
And you are there
Who am I at the end of your day?
Animals were never meant to be caged
But what do we do when we can't give each other joy?
Turn our heads and pretend our hearts don't make noise?
And when a rattling inside of me stirs
Is that permission for you to pursue her?
Still my love, it goes on
It's not like I'm analyzing what is wrong
It's just that you and I are in different places, separate cages,
Who am I at the end of the day?
I am here
And you are there
I know you care

Visit Engelbert Humperdinck page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.