"Everybody Knows"

Wish they hadn't seen him walk away,
And heard me beg him stay, please stay.
Why, why did we choose this crowded place,
They all know it, cause I show it in my face.
Everybody knows you said goodbye,
Everybody knows we're through.
Now they all can see the tears I cry,
Running down my face for you.
They all said it's too good to be true,
He'll make a fool of you, one day.
I just laughed and said our love was strong,
But you left me, and they all know I was wrong.
Everybody knows you're tired of me,
Everybody knows we're through.
Though I'm on my own I can't be free,
Baby, I just live for you.
Everybody knows you said goodbye,
Everybody knows we're through...
