The sun set, one less shadow on the water
The air is cool across my shoulder
I sit alone here on the sand
The sea bird, high in the fading light is flyin'
He can see the day is dyin'
So he turns to-ward the land.

CHORUS

I got a feelin' something's breakin'
And it's all coming down
There's gonna be a million pieces
Scattered here upon the ground.
I can see my future fading
I have no place to start
I got a feelin' something's breakin'
And it just might be my heart.

Full moonlight, your silver road is there before me
A silent witness to my story
You know how love can come and go
At dawning the sun will burn away the shadows
Then I will have to face tomorrow
Once again I'll be alone.

REPEAT CHORUS
