You call me on the telephone
And tell me all the things you long to hear You're searchin' for reality,
or maybe one to help you fight your fears
And all along I'm sitting here
Rememb'rin' all the times that I called for you

Who's lonely now?
Who's lonely now?
What goes up
must come down

You stood upon your balcony
And waved goodbye
as I walked down the street
You said that we were not alike
Well maybe you were right and I was weak
But through it all you watched me go
You never even cared that I needed you

Who's lonely now?
Who's lonely now?
What goes up
must come down

Who's lonely now?
Who's lonely now?
What goes up
must come down

Who's lonely now?
Who's lonely now?
What goes up
must come down

Who's lonely now?
Who's lonely now?
What goes up
must come down
