When everything is cloudy, and the sun won't shine for me

And it seems like nothing's goin' right, there's a place I want to be

Just laying there beside you in the shelter of your room

I leave the world outside your door, lose myself in you

When you're in my arms, I find all that I need

I could never live without the heaven that you showed me

I've been waiting all my life, just to look into your eyes

Only for the time alone with you

And when I climb the stairs to find you, and we reach for the light

I thank God I've got this time alone with you

Your kiss can captivate me, and your touch can set me free

I count the hours, baby, till you are next to me

And it's taken such a long time, to find someone that understands

When I reach out for love now, I reach out for your hand

When I feel your heart beat, it makes me come alive

I don't wanna live without something that is so right

Chorus:

I've been waiting all my life, just to look into your eyes

Only for the time alone with you

'Cos everytime I see your face, all my troubles fade away

Only for the time alone with you

And when I climb the stairs to find you, and we reach for the light

(Instrumental break)

Oh, this time alone with you
