Without roots to set me on the ground
Without words to tell you what I've found
Without hope that I could see this through
I can't live baby without you

Without joy that makes me wanna sing
Without pride I can't do anything
Without truth to make me black and blue
I can't live baby without you

You could turn your back you could set me free
But you can't stop being what you are to me
And I love the fact that you love me too
And that I can't live...

Without you to need with all my might Without me to make it work out right
Without us nothing else will do
I can't live baby without you

You could turn your back you could set me free
But you can't stop being what you are to me
And I love the fact that you love me too
And that I can't live, without you
