i've waited for the time to come for you to show up and fill this empty shell i had become you brought meaning to this life and i will always thank God for you in my heart the first day
that i saw you
i looked into your eyes and i saw my life i saw me getting older with you right by my side a true miracle of life since the day you came here i have never been the same for the rest of my life i will show you
what you mean
to me i saved the best of me for you there's nothing i wouldn't do i'd lay it down my life and all all that i am i'd give to you if i had my way you would never feel the slightest pain and you would never have to fear i will feel good about my life if i can help make yours the best it can be
all that i have
i'll give to you
