Some other time
When the dark star hits you
I won't be there to taste your smile
Some fatal night
When the dark truth gets you
I won't be there to fake a smile
Some other time, baby
Death will be holding your hand
And you'll understand
Some other time, baby
Death will be holding your hand
And you'll understand
Reach for the light
But the switch is gone
Well what'cha gonna do now?
Can't seem to force your inner light on
Well what'cha gonna do now?
Some people try
But they just can't make it
Is that how it's gonna be for you?
Thirst like a curse

And they just can't shake it

You seem cursed and thirsty too

Some other time, baby

Death will be breathing down your neck

Respect

Some other time, baby

Death will be breathing down your neck

Respect

Do you ever think about all the pretty ones that never made it home?

Or do you wish you was one of the lucky ones who could dissappear alone

Like you were never here

Reach for a scream
But your voice is gone

What'cha gonna do now?

Sinister force put your head on wrong

Your lies are coming true now

The hour's arrived, baby

Death finally made you understand

When he closed your hand

The hour's arrived, baby

Death finally made you understand

When he closed your hand

Some fatal lies got their eyes on you

But I won't be there to catch your fall

Some liar tires every disguise on you

But I won't be there anywhere at all
In an ominous dream
You'll see death finally made you understand
With his icy hand
In an ominous dream
You'll see death finally made you understand
With his icy hand
Do you ever sympathize
With the hungry ghosts
Who ain't never had a home?
Or do you wish you was one of the lucky ones
Always free to roam
So you could disappear
Lost in the Dark...
Can you find a way to lay your cross down to burden you no more?
Is that heavy weight upon your shoulders the only thing you're living for?
Then why are you still here?
