We arise from the ashes we burn
With a grin on our face we return

We walk among the ones
The mortals can't see
When the sun goes up
No more we'll be

Soulless, we hide in the shadows
Lifeless, we hide from the sun
We are the children of the underworld
And we are gone

We stalk the earth, we are undead
By the full moon's curse we are possessed

Doomed to eternity
We suffer, we cry
Bleeding in endless floods
Where we conquer your lives

With blood our thirst has been stilled
With flesh our stomachs are filled
We are the children of the underworld
And we kill

We repent nothing
We cheat and we lie
We manipulate your soul
We bleed and you die

Fearless, we walk among demons
Godless, we take your last breath
We are the children of the underworld
And we're undead, and we're undead
And we're undead, dead
