The silence breeds
Into the mind of one
And in denial I twist away
The desire feeds
On the promise of one
And from you I slip away
In solitude
With the power of one
Now that I find a path
I taste 'alone'
Feel it's cold
As I drift away
Take my hand in this
And cross back unto me
For we are the forgotten ones
Revive me once more
My feathers lay tarred

Scattered and broken
Tied to these shattered wings
The feeling of one
With the heart of none
Where do I go from here?
I take the fears
All the lies unsaid
Into my sleeping mind
In my world
You are mine
I take you in my arms
Take my hand in this
And cross back unto me
For we are the forgotten ones
Revive me once more
