In cascades we writhe
An ethereal lullaby
To sing sorrows so sweet
In this time unique
Come claim me
I offer myself to you
Indulge in my mystery
I awaken
In birth foundations lie
And in death... sacrifice
Succulence drained away
As we choke on life
Come claim me
I offer myself to you

Indulge my mystery
I awaken
This tormented shadow
Dispelled by pale sunlight
Once lost shall set us free
To taste the buds of life
And as we dance under the glass
Our love shall claim
We sacrifice autumnal childhood
As the memory cries again
Once again
