Did you catch a look at your friend drooling in the drawing room?

His eyes were fixed on yours, dear
But his mind was almost certainly elsewhere
He couldn't give a damn if you understand
He's trying to get his hands on your loot

If you go I will go, because nothing else seems to fit
Although we know we've been wasting our time
Now we're blinded by it
If you go I will go

It's been so long since I saw you waiting at the dock of the bay
When I turned up in my lifeboat
But pretty soon I was beginning to drift away
I saw you turn and call out to me
And I think I heard the words that you said
