Simply put
I am hanging on here by a thred
So confused, I need you
Chaos swims so rapid in my head
Will you stand by watching while I'm falling?

I need your help, not someone else
My world is crashing, crashing

I need your help
Lord save me now
My world is crashing, crashing

Losing breath
I now plummet deeper towards my death
So confused, I need you
Words of hope now linger in my head
You will never leave me
I believe you

I need your help, not someone else
My world is crashing, crashing

I need your help
Lord save me now
My world is crashing, crashing

I need your help
My world is crashing, crashing

I need your help
My world is crashing, crashing

I need your help
Lord save me now
My world is crashing, crashing

My world is crashing
