"Draw Me"

Stakes are high and pressure's building.
Soon the world will lose it's tie.
Choices rendered now may later cause the weary soul
to die.

What you gonna say when they ask you?
What you gonna do when come for everything you knew?
Don't you let them push you far away from what He's called you too!

Chorus:
Draw me to Your side again

Fill this void that I come to Draw me toward the light again,
Back into Your holy presence.

Past mistakes now beckon closure.
What was lost will soon be found.
Nailed by sin the blood has broken chains that held us deeply bound

Higher to your mercy to your greatness, to your likeness!
