The origin of a dogma
Placed in a new millennium
Vilified demons have been embraced
And given a warm welcome
The Seif al Din
Hasn't got the ghost of a chance to rust
Because it has always been kept in shape
In serving th one Almighty
The rudiments have always been misinterpreted during history,
Despite the good intentions of many disciples whos faithful believe was strong and unswayed.
Most leaders interpret the old words to their Advantage in the attempt of gaining leadership and power Over those unfortunate enough to fall under their maliciousness and manipulative ways.
This misuse of trust will forever stain the pages of
history,
Echoing the exploitation and the frailty of decent Men carried away by nurtured rancour...
Perpetual distrust fed by a belief
In the malevolence of the others
When the beautiful unreality holds out it's hand
Its better not to lose yourself in blind faith
La Illah Illallah, Mohammed rasul Allah
