"Serenade of Self-Destruction"

Never could see what lies deeper seeming that our view can't be changed deciding where to go and believe in your disaster deleting a future untold

This is the final deceiver this is the devil in me expectation deeds in the making will show no final relief ever would we dance with the reaper seething in a monstrous cage ideas meant to placate when meeting your disaster are only for a desperate fool

Destructive thoughts to mislead us can come from deep underground Believing sources unbroken will tear the legion apart

Will we be forever free as we unchain our souls from life forever

You are just a slave to the dust!

Another time, where you and me will be freed with one more last endeavor

You cannot escape your fate now!

No!

Try me, don't deny me
please embrace me in your peace

I want to fly into the bright would you please guide my last goodbye why won't you lie with me, my light's ending on a night when I find, I'll take my final flight

Now come and see divinity where night turns day so far away from heaven You will never earn my trust!
Provoke the need, give word to deed, and dive into another god-like atmosphere You will never find your way out!

No!

I'd rather die Than breathe in my shame they'll know my name all hell in flames

For our faith
we proudly die (For it we would die)
for our sovereign all hell will arise (Hell will surely rise)

We'll serve our cause in earning reward (Earning our reward)
Collision of skies
the ocean wept dry (Every ocean dry)

Another's desperation flying through the emptiness as my degradation throws me out of line

Try me, don't deny me
would you please guide my last goodbye
why won't you lie with me, my light's ending

Take the final flight into the serenade forever lost in time
